The lock on the inside of the office is a spring one. To have unlocked this on the outside without a key would be considered a clever piece of work and yet that is what must have been done because the door was standing afar this morning and the tongue of the lock was extending outward as when doing duty in the slot.

The burglars evidently had hopes that

Great risk, however, was ta-ken. because the depot is always illumi-nated at night within as well as with-out, people pass there frequently and the policeman on the beat is specially in-structed to give the place the closest at-tention. At last accounts, the police had no clue to the burglars.

DESMET, S. D., Aug. 1.—A terrific hall storm passed over this section last night, totally destroying the crops on 2,000 acres of land and severely damaging those on several thousand acres more. But little grain in the path of the storm had been cut. The full extent of the damage is not yet ascertained. A similar storm is reported from the vicinity of Dawson City, Minnesota. It also did considerable damage to grain. Several farmers are reported to have lost their entire crops by hail. by hail.

There can be no denying our prosperity, either, for bounteous harvests mean lots of money in circulation, and that is all that is necessary where so many opportunities for successful investment exist as are to be found here.

SPIRITUALISTIC FAKIRS.

The death of Ingersoil has created a boom in the Spiritualist business, for every medium in the country is taking advantage of the situation to hold al-"spook" conversations with the leged dead agnostic. The unfortunate part of the matter is that thousands of weakminded individuals are foolish enough to believe in this arrant humbug, and by their contributions to the "cause" they are enabling the shrewd operators to fatten and grow rich at their expense.

It is not generally known to how great an extent these up-to-date witches and sorrerers loot society with their knavish tricks, but as an indication it may be mentloned that when a medium was on rial in San Francisco a short time ago, the fact developed that her income from spiritualistic sources averaged $250 a week the year through. It is astonishing, too, how so many people who on all other subjects show a fair grade of intelligence should be so easily gulled by simple devices, especially in view of the frequency and completeness with which this branch of frund is so often exposed.

The way Theosophy has spread in this country is an indication of how this sort of thing is growing, for although it is scarcely fair to class it with Spiritualism, still the two theories are alike in so many particulars that It is hard to draw a dividing line. Madame Blavatsky, the first high-priestess of modern Theosophy, by her brilliancy and research shained for it a feeting that otherwise would have been sought in vain, and at the time of her death the various socicties she had founded throughout the world were making rap! I headway. Since then, though, the apostles of the new selled have found that instead of being the to advance, the ground has been slipping away from them, and the fears destained that theosophic principles might spe ad and crowd out the various religious sects are now fully dissipated.

Spiritualism, though, possesses none of the higher attributes of Theosophy, and as practiced by the various mediums computes simply to low-grade (rickery, The methods of the operators have been exposed time and again, and it is strange that at this late day anyone can be found to believe in them. Talking about the application of the Southern Pacific Company to secure a tranchise for a street car service in Berkeley reminds me of a talk I had with Louis Gottschall at Berkeley the other evening. Mr. Gottschall said he thought the applications would be granted. From what I heard when I was in Berkeley I am of the same opinion. By the way, excounty Recorder Charles ff. Spear, who is now a Foru Warden of San Francisco, is interested in having the franchises granted. Although Mr. Spear's business is in San Francisco, he still retains his home in Berkeley.

Chief Hodgkins Instructs His Will Allow His Young Men How to Rule the City.

There was a meeting of the members of the police force in the Council chamber yesterday afternoon which was held in response to a call by Chief Hodgkins. All the members were present. Chief Hodgkins delivered an address in which he set forth the duties of the members of the force and told how they would be experience to discharge them. His remarks were based upon the experience he has had as patrolman, detective and screamt while a member of the police department in this city. They were practical and sensible and were listened to with the greatest interest by all the members. Among other things he spoke as follows:

CHIEF'S STATEMENT.
"The rules and regulations of the po-lice force have been made to govern the lice force have been made to govern the members of the Police Department. They were made by the Police Commissioners. They were not made for us to say whether they are good rules or bad rules. It is our duty to live up to them. That is what the Police Commissioners expect us to do and it is expected of me to see that the rules and regulations are enforced. The rules have not been made for one man or a few men, but to regforced. The rules have not been made for one man or a few men, but to regulate the doings of every man in the department. They must be lived up to not by a few but by all. You must understand that the rules and regulations are not intended to cover all cases which may arise in the discharge of your duty. Something must necessarily be left to your intelligence and discretion.

PAY YOUR DEBTS. "There is one thing that must be remarked here that I regret to speak of it in the presence of you all, that is the pay-ment of your just debts. To me it does not seem right that it must be mentioned hereafter, but I hope it will not be necessary, I will speak directly to him who is complained of. I do not mean that I will speak in public to him. There should be some arrangement made by an efficer owing just debts so that he will not be reported here at the Ifall. STAY ON BEATS.

The chief then admonished officers that The chief then admonished officers that they were to leave their beats only in the event of performing some official duty, and then only when it was necessary and that they were to wear their star only when or active duty, which did not include the time while going to report or going to and coming from meals. He also stated that if the officers pairollook their beats conselentlookly. He also stated that if the officers patrolled their beats conscientiously and had the interests of the department at heart, they would have sufficient to occupy their time and the hours would not hang beavily upon their hands. The rules, he said, forbade them to smoke save between the hours of 1 and 5 A. M., when in uniform. Continuing, the chief said: "I will also ask you particularly to notice Rule 62 and you must understand that the success of any organization depends upon discipline and that is what we upon discipline and that is what we must have here in this department. When officers go around, and criticise the actions of the Police Commissioners or The annual street cleaning of this city began this morning, and will be prosecuted with unremitting energy until the debris shall have been returned from the gatters in all parts of the city. This which has impelled them to this humble morbind of making a living is a source of gatters in all parts of the city. This which has impelled them to this humble morbind of making a living is a source of an exceeding annoyance. It is somewhat remarkable, in view of all that has been such remarkable, in view of all that has been our superior officers and our action as police business and our action as police our superior officers and our action as police our superior officers it certainly shows lead to the spect, to say the least. It is not expected of you, something that the rules forbid and a thing that i It is something that concerns us all, every one of us, and each and every one of us should do our share to make it efficient and a success.

MUST WORK. "While you are on duly, you are sup-posed to work. That is what is expected of you. That is what you are paid for and that is what you must do. You have a little time when not on duty to talk to your friend and do your private business. Do it then and let other officer tend to their business. Do not try to do it for them, for a man who attends do it for them, for a man who attends strictly to his own busness has about all that he can attend to. If you do what you are ordered to do and obey the rules and regulations and do police duty you are doing all you can. It should not be necessary that every once in a while your attention should be called to enforce such and such as ordinate. The ordinates your attention should be called to enforce such and such as ordinance. The ordin-ances are in the book to be enforced. Enforce them. I would suggest that of-fleers notice ordinances as they are printed in official papers and out out and post all ordinances touching the duties of police officers which would give them information and save a great deal of trouble. Officers must not do shopping while on duty. They must do that when not in uniform. No man should presume in his position as a policeman to get making position as a policeman to get in his position as a policeman to get something without paying for it. Occasionally, officers are assigned to do dury in citizen's clothes. The chances to violate the rules with fewer chances of being caught are many. Do not do his Show your superior officers that the confidence they put in you is not misplaced and then how much better we can all work together. In union there is strength. If we work together our roward will be success, not individual success but success of the police force alcess but success of the police force alcess but success of the police force al-tegether.

"A police officer is supposed to be a gentleman, a public protector and an honest man. Let us prove this to be a fact and we shall have the hearty sup-port of the Police Commission and citi-zens. Police officers are supposed to be a source of information to our fellow citizens in a certain way and to strang-ers visiting our city. They should be familiar with the localion of all promers visiting our city. They should be familiar with the location of all prominent places, parks, churches, public bulldings, halls, places of amusement, streets and the arrival and departure of trains. To go to a police officer for information is the first thing a stranger thinks of and the officer should be prepared to answer any question put to him referring to our city or any place therein.

"No officer should interfere in the ar gossip or otherwise spend the time in

"What puzzled me in the beginning was that I kept losing flesh without any cause for it that I could see. I had a little trouble with my stomach, too, and after a while began to grow weaker and to cough. The cough, I thought, would soon go away and cure itself, but it didn't. It grew worse, and then I began to spit up a pecu-liar looking substance. I never thought of consumption, but one day I had a hemorrhage, and then was frightened in earnest and did just what you would do. I rushed to the doctor. He was either too busy, or something else, for he didn't do me any good. I kept going on down hill, and the outlook was bad. Things took a different turn, however, when I heard of Acker's English Romedy for Continuation for I took it. for Consumption, for I took it, and it not only cured my coughing and spitting, but also built up my whole system. I took on per-manent flesh, and today am just as healthy a man as you can find in a week's travel. You may be sure I always keep Acker's Eng-lish Remedy in the house, and it lish Remedy in the house, and it is a good thing I do so, for one night my youngest child was seized with croup. That hourse, wheezy cough was the first signal, and I lost no time in giving the poor liltle sufferer proper doses of this grand medicine. In almost no time the disense was under control, and my child was saved. I advise every parent to have a bottle handy all the time. It serves the same purpose in keeping croup out of the house that a good lock and key serve to keep burglars out. It is both an expectorant and a tonic. It cured me of consumption and my child of croup, and I know what I am talking about." (Signed) Hon. M. Hogan, picture frame manufacturer, 242 Center Street, New York.

At the opening of school some new rules which had been passed by the Board of Education were read to the pu-

Board of Education were read to the pupils.

No pupils were refused entrance at any school but as fast as possible those belonging to other districts are being transferred to their proper district.

No pupils were refused entrance because they had not been vaccinated.

The teachers registered the names of those who had vaccination certificates. If any outbreak of small-pox should occur children not already vaccinated will be compelled to be vaccinated before being allowed to attend school.

MESSENGERS BACK TO WORK

Associated Press Disputches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. BOSTON, Aug. 1.-The striking messengers of the Boston District Messenger Company returned to work at noon pend-ing the result of a conference between the State Board of Arbitration and the directors of the company.

Two boys were assaulted during the forenoon, one of them being so roughly handled that he was taken in an ambulance to a hospital. One of the assailants was arrested. The strikers presented a bill of grievinces today demanding 21/2 cents per mesthat ten hours shall constitute a day's work and that they be permitted to buy their uniforms instead of renting them from the company.

It is reported that the postmasters of the United States will be required by the government to wear a uniform hereafter, consisting of light blue pants with red stripes, a white blouse with gold should-er straps and a skull cap with a sliver star in front. Phew! but won't our worthy postmaster look swell parading the streets in this outfit.—Pleasanton Bul-letin.

POSTAL DELIVERY. Congressman De Vries has determined to make a trial of the rural postal delivery in his district and is casting about ery in his neutric and is casting adout for a locality which is suitable. If Con-gressman Metcalf determines to follow suit he will find the Livermore valley an ideal place to try the experiment. The velley has a dense population in a comparatively limited area and its roads are good at all seasons. There is not a day in the year when deliveries cannot be made. Our people should not be backward in presenting their claims as the establishment of such a service would be a great titing for this section. [Livermore there]

Entwistle was in the navy during the Civil war, and has served Uncle Sam on the seas ever since When wer was declared with Spain he when war was decigned with Admiral Dowey's squadron. He was on the Olympia, at the Admiral's side, during the battle, and his prompittude was such that he was complimented afterward by Dewey. The great communder declared too, that the faultless condition of the machinery throughout the deel and the excellent management of Entwitte were largely responsible for the wiping out of the Spaniards. Admiral Dowey furthermore referred in a very compilmentary manner to Ent-wistle in a speech which he made in Aus-tria. He must have spoken at head-quarters as well, for it was not long after the great battle that a commission as Captain arrived for Entwistle. Captain Entwistle was near the age limit and was sent to his home in Patterson, N. J., with the expectation of being retired. He is spending the summer at Lake George, and received no information of action in his case until a few days are. Then be had a letter from Acting Secretary Al's nof the Navy Depletiment, informing him of his retirement under the provisions of the personnel bill. her also informed Caparin Entwistle that he would hereafter have the rank and three quarters of the sea pay of a Rear Admiral.

Rear Admiral Entwistle will finish the summer at the Lake, and then may afterward be assigned to shore duty. He has just received a fine medal of the sort. Admiral ordered by Congress for all the heroes of Manila.
